Professor Emile T. Holley
1308 Kenyon Street
Washington, D. C. 20010

Dear Professor Holley:

Although you have received an official receipt for your generous contribution to Annual Giving, I did want to write you my own personal note of thanks. Your generosity and loyal support is greatly appreciated. Many, many thanks.

We are having a very fine year under the leadership of Dr. Armstrong. We have had very little student unrest and this has been mainly due to the efforts of the President and Dean of the College in keeping in close communication with all segments of the student body - blacks, whites, radicals, conservatives, and middle-of-the-roaders - in order to bring about a mutual understanding. So far this policy has paid dividends.

Thank you again for your generosity and loyal support.

Best personal regards.

Sincerely,

Gordon C. Perine
Director of Alumni Relations

P.S. I hope you are planning to attend your 45th Reunion, May 29, 30 and 31.
